The Cohoes Housing Authority is proud to help connect you to the internet. Although this service is free, it shouldn't be abused. We are providing this service for both your personal enjoyment but more so for your ability to take advantages of the knowledge and opportunities that it has available to you. If for any reason it is found to be abused, the service will be disconnected without notice or appeal. This service is a privilege not a right. We hope you use it wisely. You can help us simply by following the rules of the CHA, helping picking up papers and even pulling weeds to help make our sites the best!

If you hook up your PC to a Cat 5 jack located in your apartment, you will need to log into the internet via our log in sheet. You need to provide us with a usable email address and you must keep it current. If you fail to keep it current your service will be terminated. Please supervise your children at all times. There is a site that is suggested you watch for more information on Internet safety. It is :
